Report of Superintendent of Schools

To the School Board and Citizens of Northwood:

"The school is the foundation of the nation. If the American school fails, America will fail. Education is the mother of civilization. Where there has been no education there has been no civilization. Civilization has come down through the ages in a chariot built by the forces of education."

It is recognized today that the acquisition of knowledge is not the chief aim of the educative process, but all instruction is for the benefit of the physical, moral and mental development of the child. Physical fitness is the foundation of good citizenship, so provision for physical education and welfare has found its way into our schools. The most important element of success in community life is team work with a common purpose. Much is being done in our schools, in training the children, to work together in plays, games and other activities. To recognize the rights of others, and to realize that freedom and liberty for the whole group, depends upon the willingness of the individual to conform to rules and laws established for the good of all.

Much research work has been done in recent years, establishing the methods that are most effective in class room instruction, and culling out the things that have little or no educational value. We are trying to profit by the findings of this research work and to incorporate into the schools of Northwood those things which make for efficiency and to eliminate things which have no value. The use of standard tests this year enables us to find the strong and the weak points in our schools with accuracy, and to compare the school work of Northwood with that of hundreds of other schools throughout the country who use the same tests. This helps us to carry the classification of pupils into grades with a greater degree of exactness. It also shows the weakness in any particular subject of study, and that makes clear, where more stress should be placed to bring the work up to normal.

Your attention is directed to the condition of the buildings at the Ridge and the Narrows. As long as they are used for school purposes, they should be made wholesome and attractive, meeting state requirements in physical appointments. The outbuildings should be connected with the main buildings, so it would not be necessary for pupils to go out of doors in the mud, rain or snow to reach the toilets. Several well-founded complaints have come to me about the unsanitary condition of the toilets. I would recommend that chemical toilets be installed, to safeguard the health of our boys and girls.

In conclusion I wish to express to the members of the school board and to the teachers my appreciation of their hearty co-operation in the school work.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARENCE C. SANBORN,

Superintendent of Schools.

Northwood Old Home Day

Under the bluest of skies, and the most auspicious conditions in general, Northwood observed on Monday, August 22, Old Home Day. The celebration was the first of the kind in several years, and no effort had been spared to make the event successful.

The program of the day began at 10 A. M. with a baseball game in Cogswell Field, between the Northwood and Deerfield teams, witnessed by a large and interested crowd. The score was 3-2 in Northwood's favor. During the game music was furnished by the Northwood-Barrington band, which played at intervals during the day. After this, the throng of people, who had already gathered, broke into small groups and adjourned to Harvey Island for a basket picnic. In the afternoon a literary and musical program was given, in the Congregational church close by, with the following numbers:

Selection	Brass Quartet
Song, "Northwood's Old Home Day"	Chorus
(Written by George Selden)
Prayer	Rev. G. W. Collins
Song, "O, Columbia"	Chorus
Welcome	Walter C. Chesley
Response	Dr. G. V. Fiske
Solo, "In an Old Fashioned Town"	Miss Doris Trickey
Reading, "Old Home Day"	Vivian Scott
Trio, "Gleam, Gleam, Silver Stream"
Misses Trickey and Abbott
Poem, "Northwood on Old Home Day"
Mrs. Esther Crandall
(Written by Miss Elizabeth B. Watson)

Song, "I Dreamed of Home"

Chorus

Address, His Excellency, Albert O. Brown, Governor

Song, "My Childhood Home"

Chorus

The crowning feature of the day was the speech of Governor Brown, a man greatly beloved by the people of this town and one whom they are always glad and proud to claim as a "favorite son." He was happily introduced by Chairman Orrin M. James, who humorously alluded to an incident connected with the Governor's early life in Northwood. In the first part of the address that followed, Governor Brown dealt with reminiscences of his school days at Coe's Northwood Academy, an institution with which he has long been associated and which, in recent years, he has served as president of the board of trustees. He indulged in several local allusions, which were enthusiastically received, and spoke at some length of the contrast between conditions of forty-eight years ago, when Northwood observed her centennial, and now. The latter part of the speech, in rather more serious vein, had to do almost entirely with present day conditions and problems.

At the conclusion of the program, a second ball game, in which Deerfield defeated Northwood 2-1, concluded the events of the day.

There has never been a more highly satisfactory or pleasanter observance of Old Home Day here. The number of people present, variously estimated from six to eight hundred, many of them sons and daughters of the town, returned from long distances for this occasion, testified to the ready response which the invitation to come back met. Fully three hundred and fifty, all that the building would accommodate, listened to the afternoon program, and as many more were grouped outside.

Although excellence characterized every event of the celebration, special mention should be made of the painstaking work of Mrs. J. F. Merrill; that of Orrin M. James, the efficient chairman of the day; of W. T. Leighton, who conducted the chorus; and of Miss Annie H. Clarke, who acted as accompanist. The address of welcome by Walter C. Chesley was worthy of favorable comment, as was also the poem written for the occasion by Miss Elizabeth B. Watson.

The committee in charge of the affair was as follows: Mrs. J. F. Merrill, Orrin M. James, Annie H. Clarke, Walter C. Chesley, Mrs. W. S. Adams, Charles A. Foss, and Robert Frye.

Following is Miss Watson's poem:

NORTHWOOD ON OLD HOME DAY

A little town, encircled fast by hills of misty blue,
Is calling all her children home today;
And the message sent to draw the wandering sons and daughters back,
Has an urgency that will not brook delay.

The winds and the waters couriers are, to bear the news afar;
From their treetop homes the birds have sung the call,
And every little brooklet that runs laughing all its way
Has told the tale anew to one and all.

The gently lapping waves of the lakes have murmured low
To the stately pines that fringe each broken shore;
And the wilful breezes eagerly have seized upon the word,
And go whispering soft, "Come home to us once more."

What treasure has this little town? What spell to bind us fast,
That despite both time and distance keeps its hold?
'Tis not wealth or numbers great, nor yet fame, and yet she has
A lure that far outweighs the lure of gold.

The hills that guard her quiet, like tireless sentinels,
Are beautiful as in the olden days;
Their summits still are quick to catch the first faint rose of dawn,
Or reflect at eve the sunset's lingering rays.

Her lakes of blue, upon whose shores dark pines stand straight and tall,
And birches bend their pretty selves to see,
Are fair and lovely yet; and in the woodlands and the fields
Are grass-grown paths, oft trod in memory.

But though hills and lakes and woodlands in mem'ry hold a place,
Northwood has a magic still more strong, more true;
There's a kindliness of spirit, a warmth of heart and hand,
And a loyalty that lasts the long years through.

'Tis from these she shapes the ties that can bind her children close,
That can hold their hearts, no matter where they roam,
And so back to little Northwood with her circling hills of blue,
To-day have come her wand'ring children home.
